

I have read many personal finance books in my journey to financial freedom and I have quite a number I would recommend for someone starting on their financial education. However, giving you Top 10 recommended books will just lead to decision overwhelm for you and thus no action

Therefore, I chose the most practicable of my Top 10, the one book that will provide practical steps to grow your wealth and attain financial freedom. The book is fun to listen to. The author is extremely funny and tries to keep it lively while still being hard on us where we need to style up. I will weigh in every week with my thoughts on how you can apply the lessons in the audiobook chapter to the Kenyan context. This is what misses in most of these books because they are written for an American audience.

I also thought about the best medium and asked what would my lazy self-do to learn without feeling overwhelmed? The answer is an audiobook...You can listen to the book on your commute to work, or when doing chores or even when relaxing somewhere on a beach watching the waves.

The second challenge to tackle was money and the cost of learning...I strongly advocate for you to spend money to buy books...they are damn cheap vis a vis the return on investment in terms of knowledge gained. They help you get access to life time collected wisdom from people who you would never be able to access...However, my goal is to educate as many people as possible on managing their personal finances and hope that they #PayitForward. In 10-20 years' time, I hope Kenya will have changed to a fiscally responsible and prosperous society because of this tiny action.

Therefore I searched high and wide for a legal way to access the audiobook. That way money is not an excuse for you to not improve your financial knowledge

Step 4: After you create your Amazon account and/or sign into it, you will be taken to Billing section - remember Amazon is in business with their Audible product and therefore are hoping you will like it so much that at the end of the trial period you will want to pay $14.95 per month to continue listening to their large library of audiobooks.

At the end of this guide, I will show you how to cancel the free trial if you are not interested in the monthly Audible subscription.

If you can afford $14.95 per month great! They do have an amazing product on their hands and the best investment you can make is an investment in yourself and in knowledge!

A few notes on the above 🖱️ Amazon doesn't ask for your CVV number (which are the 3 digits at the back of your debit/credit card that authorizes secure transactions) - that's a great thing!

As I said in my Money Market Fund Lesson - NEVER GIVE THE DETAILS AT THE BACK OF YOUR CREDIT/DEBIT CARD - The top of your card has the relevant details for any credible company to assess that you are a real person with a grown up genuine bank account i.e. Your name on the card, the Card Number and the Expiration date of the card

Secondly, Amazon are so confident about their product that they offer us the chance to cancel the subscription at any time between Day 1 and Day 31 if we are not happy with it

Guess their strategy is to cast a wide net and hope to catch a few fish (read you and me) who will want to pay going forward. I will ensure we are done with the lesson by day 25 so those who want to cancel have sufficient time to do it🖱️

Step 5: Once you have filled the details click on "Add your card" Make sure you have card number is 16 numbers long! Otherwise it won't let you proceed to the next page

Step 6: If this is a new account with Amazon, you will have to fill in the "Billing address" This is basically your delivery address - remember you can use Amazon to buy stuff and they will ship to this address

So fill the details of where a parcel can be sent to you in Kenya OR the country you live in. e.g. your work place, your home etc. - workplace works for me personally. If you already have an account with them click on "Use this address" or "Add a new address" if you want to have another option as the shipping address

See the field above for my case as I already have an Amazon account (this is after I entered my credit card details - omitted for privacy obviously)

Your paid membership begins today, or at the end of your trial period, as applicable. It continues unless cancelled for $14.95/month + taxes (subject to any applicable promotions or discounts that may be applied). Your plan gives you 1 credit each month, which is good for any audiobook, regardless of length or price. Credits can be kept for a year before they expire. Cancel your membership anytime by visiting your Account Details page. Please note: If you cancel, you will lose any remaining credits and lose access to your member benefits. Your membership is subject to Audible's Conditions of Use. If we are unable to charge your default card, we will use another card in your Amazon Account as back up. Manage payment settings >

If you want to cancel you will click on Accounts Details highlighted in blue link on the email screenshoted in the previous page

Clicking on it will take you to this page (you can also go to "Help" Section where they have a link to "Cancel Membership" too. Take note of the "Your next bill date is" For example in my case I have to cancel by 18 September 2019 - therefore I have set a calender invite on my Google calender to remind me to cancel on 17 September 2019 😊 However, they have a great product and if you can afford it then no need to cancel :)
